6 Read the text quickly and choose the best title.

- 1 New films at the cinema
- 2 Teenagers and their favourite films
- 3 Cinemas in the UK

When do you go to the cinema? What types of film do you like? In the UK, the cinema is very popular and a lot of young people go there. But, what types of film do they watch? We ask two friends about their cinema preferences.

Jack, 12

I love going to the cinema because there are always eight films on at our local cinema complex, and it's really modern. The ice cream is fantastic and there's great popcorn and other snacks. I go with my friends every Friday. We all like science-fiction films with action and suspense. We are also great fans of special effects, so we love films like Avatar and Transformers.

Katie, 11

I don't like horror films or science-fiction films but I love romantic comedies. One of my favourite films is Letters to Juliet. It's about a woman called Sophie who goes to Italy and discovers a very old, unopened love letter. It's very funny and Sophie ends up falling in love too, of course! I don't go to the cinema much, because there isn't a cinema near me. I watch films on DVD a few months later.

7  Read and listen. Who mentions these things, Jack or Katie?

They sell good ice-cream at my local cinema. Jack

- 1 There isn't a cinema near me. ...
- 2 I go to the cinema with my friends. ...
- 3 My favourite film is a love story. ...
- 4 I wait for the DVD and watch films then. ...
- 5 I like the same films as my friends. ...

8 Answer the questions.

- 1 Do young people like going to the cinema in the UK?
- 2 Do Jack and Katie enjoy the same types of film?
- 3 Does Jack like his local cinema?
- 4 Does Katie go to the cinema a lot?

Organize your vocabulary into word sets to help you remember it:
film types: horror, science-fiction, war

Culture Film awards

The Academy Awards, or the Oscars, are the most famous film industry awards in the English-speaking world. They are given to people who work in the film industry, such as actors, directors and writers, and the winners receive a gold statue. Every year this award ceremony is held in late February or early March in Hollywood, in the USA. The British equivalent of the Oscars is the British Academy of Film and Television Arts Awards, or BAFTAs. Winners of the British award win a gold theatrical mask.

In 2009, the British film Slumdog Millionaire won eight Oscars including Best Picture and Best Director. It also won seven BAFTAs. Slumdog Millionaire is about an 18-year-old finalist on the Indian version of the popular TV quiz show Who Wants To Be A Millionaire?.

- 5  Read and listen. Do young people watch more TV than their parents?
- 6 Read the text again. Are the sentences true or false?
- 1 Parents watch TV for about three hours a day.
 - 2 Many young people watch DVDs every day.
 - 3 Young people have a healthy lifestyle.
 - 4 Over half of teenagers have a computer in their room.
 - 5 Lots of teenagers are tired at school.

Too much TV and not enough sleep?

Do your parents say you watch too much TV? Do they think you always watch cartoons and reality shows? A new report says that young people often watch just one and a half hours of TV a day but their parents usually watch twice as much. This report also says that young people don't watch many DVDs on their TVs. This generation prefers computers, so do young people often watch TV online? No, they don't. They sometimes watch DVDs on their computer but only for about two hours a week.

Does this mean that teenagers go outside and do lots of sport? Unfortunately, no. The computer is now a replacement for the TV and a lot of teenagers spend their time on their computers: they surf the internet, play video games and download music. More than 50 per cent of 11–13 year-olds have got a computer in their room and they don't get enough sleep because of it. Teenagers often sleep for only four hours so they are very tired the next day at school.

Do you agree? Do you usually stay up late in the week? We want to hear from our readers.

Music The 1960s

The Beatles are the most successful band in history. They sold more than one billion records and were a product of the 1960s, a decade many refer to as the Swinging Sixties. The Beatles had a big influence on pop and rock music and a lot of bands today use the same ideas as they did. Firstly, they were the songwriters as well as the performers. Two members of the band, Paul McCartney and John Lennon, wrote most of the songs. They also played instruments, such as guitars, the drums and vocals. Their songs were short and the lyrics were easy to memorize. The melody of the song was very simple but effective and the chorus often repeated the title of the song. The Beatles weren't the only band who used this formula. The Rolling Stones, The Kinks and The Who all influenced pop and rock music and they were all popular in the 1960s.

Read and listen. Answer the question.

Who wrote most of The Beatles' songs?

Survive in the Wild

In the UK, camping is becoming very popular. People are bored by life in the city and they are looking for ways to get back to nature. Survive in the Wild is an organization that teaches people how to survive outdoors by using natural resources. Basic survival techniques include how to hunt, fish and prepare food and how to stay warm and safe. Here are three of the survival courses you can try.

On the Family Day course, you learn three basic skills in a day: how to build a fire, how to look for food and how to cook food. At the moment, a family is making a fire with friction.

If you're looking for adventure and you are free for the whole weekend, try the Adventure Weekend. Some people are making simple tools for hunting and a boy is climbing a tree. He's sleeping outdoors tonight, so he's looking for wood to build a fire.

Alternatively, why not try the Two-day River Safari? You can make a canoe and learn a lot of new skills. The course begins every Friday after school and there are lots of activities on offer. One family is fishing, others are swimming, and the safari leader is chopping wood to build a fire.

Culture Summer camps

The first summer camp was in America in 1861. Today more than 10 million young people go to one of 12,000 summer camps across the USA. There are speciality camps where children learn specific skills. For example in sports camps young people learn to play baseball and football. There are even rock music camps, where they learn to play musical instruments, such as the guitar and the drums. There are adventure camps, where children go swimming in the sea or hiking in the mountains.

Young people in the UK can join the Woodcraft Folk. This is a group which organizes summer camps during the school holidays. Teenagers aged between 13 and 15 are called Venturers. Every three years there's a national Venture camp. About 600 teenagers camp together, try new activities and, of course, make new friends while learning about the environment, world peace and other global issues.

- 7  Read and listen to the information about summer camps. Then answer the questions.

Science

Plant life

Most plants have got three parts: roots, stems and leaves.

Roots have three main functions: firstly, they provide support for the plant and hold it in the ground. Secondly, they absorb water and minerals from the soil, and thirdly, they allow the transportation of water and minerals from the soil to the plant.

The stem supports the plant and carries the water and minerals to the leaves.

Leaves grow on the stem of the plant and provide food for the plant. Their main role is photosynthesis. They use the sunlight energy to make sugars from carbon dioxide and water, which helps them grow. Some plants have flowers too. These grow on the stem of the plant.

Read and listen. Answer the question.

What is the main purpose of leaves on a plant?

A discovery of food

A lot of food started its history in very different countries. European explorers discovered potatoes, tomatoes, chocolate and vanilla in America in the 16th century and rice began its journey in China. But what about other favourites?

a Biscuits

Biscuits are a favourite with everyone, but where were they discovered? The Persians cooked the first biscuits with sugar in the 7th century. The Arabs invaded Persia at that time and they loved them. Later, they took the biscuits to the rest of their empire, including Spain. From Spain, traders took biscuits to North Europe, and then English colonizers sailed to America and made them there. This is how the American version of the biscuit, the cookie, was born.

b Pasta

People often say that the explorer Marco Polo discovered pasta in China, but this isn't true. In fact, Greeks ate something similar to lasagna in the 1st century. But it was the Arabs who were responsible for modern pasta because they introduced wheat flour to Sicily, in the south of Italy. Pasta, as we know it, was created in Italy in the 13th or 14th century.

c Ice cream

Ice desserts were popular a long time ago. The Persians (400BC) and the Chinese (200BC) enjoyed snow and ice with fruit and honey. Marco Polo discovered a technique for making ice desserts in China and transported it to Italy. So the first modern sorbets were from Italy, but the first ice cream made with milk and cream appeared in 1718 in England!

On 29th May 1953, 11.30am local time, Edmund Hillary and Tenzing Norgay became the first men known to reach the top of Mount Everest. They took some pictures, and buried some sweets and biscuits in the snow. They had very little oxygen so they began their descent after 15 minutes.

Edmund Hillary was a mountaineer and explorer from New Zealand. When he was at secondary school, he climbed Mount Ollivier (1,933m) in New Zealand. After Everest, Hillary made several expeditions to the Antarctic. He also helped both the people and environment of Nepal. He died in 2008 at the age of 88.

GREAT EUROPEAN DISASTERS

ON 24TH AUGUST 79AD ...

Mount Vesuvius erupted. The eruption was catastrophic, and ash* and lava covered the towns of Pompeii and Herculaneum. They stayed hidden for nearly 1,700 years, but when Domenico Fontana, an Italian architect, discovered walls with paintings in 1559, how did he react? He covered them again! A Spanish engineer discovered Herculaneum in 1738 and Pompeii in 1748. In Pompeii, the volcano preserved Roman life exactly as it was, and we now know a lot about Roman culture because of the eruption.

ON 1ST NOVEMBER 1755 ...

there was a terrible earthquake in Lisbon, Portugal. Immediately after the earthquake, there was a tsunami and many fires started in the city. Buildings fell, burned and disappeared into the sea. In fact, the earthquake and its effects destroyed most of the city. But what did the people of Lisbon do? They rebuilt their city. They made wide streets, big squares and special buildings that could resist earthquakes. Also, thanks to the Portuguese prime minister's investigations, modern seismology was born.

Writing A biography

1  Read and listen. Then answer the questions.

- 1 What was Leonardo da Vinci's job?
- 2 What did he paint?
- 3 Why does Kate like him?

For me, the most interesting person in history was Leonardo da Vinci. He was a painter, a sculptor and an inventor. He studied anatomy and botany and he liked many other things too.

He was born in Vinci, near Florence, on the 15th of April 1452. He didn't go to school, but he studied maths, Latin and geometry at home. When he was 14, he started work. He was very good at art so he worked for a famous painter and learned techniques with him. Then he went to live in Milan in 1482 and, from this time on, Leonardo painted his most famous works, for example The Last Supper. He painted The Mona Lisa, probably the most famous painting in the world, in about 1505. It is in the Louvre Museum in Paris. I like Leonardo da Vinci because of his drawings. He was interested in maths, science and anatomy, and he drew people and bodies perfectly. He also drew inventions, for example a flying machine similar to the modern helicopter. He was the typical Renaissance man.

Art Aboriginal art

Totem poles in Canada are examples of aboriginal art and a symbol of the area's indigenous population. The ancient practice of totem carving has been handed down through generations as a way of preserving the history of local native heritage.

Stanley Park has got a wide variety of monuments, including eight Totem poles. The Totem poles each tell a real or mythical story. They are not the original Totem poles, however. Because many of the original poles were made as early as the 1880s, they have been sent to museums for preservation. The Totems today are new versions of the originals and, when you look at them, you'll notice figures of eagles, whales, wolves and frogs. Each animal has a meaning. The eagle represents the kingdom of the air, the whale is the world of the sea, the wolf is the life on land and the frog is the connection between the land and the sea.

Read and listen. Answer the question.

What does the eagle represent on a Totem pole?

The Skycar

You can drive the Skycar or fly it like a plane. Gideon Cardozo, a British engineer, designed the Skycar in just 18 months. In 2009, Cardozo decided to take the Skycar from the UK to Africa but he didn't travel alone. He went with Neil Laughton, who is a driver and a pilot. They drove along roads and they flew over mountains and seas. Finally, they arrived in Timbuktu, Western Africa, more than two months later.

The SQuba submarine

When Frank Rinderknecht saw his hero James Bond drive his car into the sea, he decided that he wanted to build a similar car. The result was the SQuba submarine. The SQuba can travel at 120kph on land, 6.5kph on water and 3.25kph underwater. This machine is completely ecological but it is also very expensive: it costs nearly €1 million!

The Couchbike

Two friends invented the Couchbike*. They tried to ride their special bicycle across a national park in Canada but two police officers stopped them and inspected their Couchbike. Why? Well, it was more than two metres wide, it was very slow and the cyclists didn't have helmets. But the police officers didn't know what to do – Couchbikes weren't in their manual – so the two friends continued their journey.
*couch: sofa

There are many ways of travelling around London. Here are a few of them.

The London Underground, or 'the Tube', was the first underground railway system in the world. It's called the London Underground, but 55% of it isn't under the ground!

London buses are typically red and many of them have got two floors. These buses are called double-deckers.

You can catch a boat at the River Thames. There are regular boat services or you can go on a cruise.

Another type of transport is the London taxi. The taxis are traditionally black, but nowadays you can find them in all different colours. Taxis are also called cabs.

Question and answer:
Bear Grylls

Bear Grylls is a British adventurer, writer and TV presenter and admired by many. Last week, Teen Explorer magazine told us more about him!

Q Why is he called Bear?

A Bear is a nickname. His sister gave him that nickname when he was a baby!

Q Obviously, he loves exploring new places. When did he start?

A At an early age, he climbed mountains with his father.

Q Was that dangerous?

A Not as dangerous as when he was in the Special Forces and had a serious parachuting accident. He broke his back in three places.

Q Did he stop his adventures?

A No – quite the opposite – at the age of 23, he became the youngest British man to climb Everest.

Q What did he do next?

A He wrote about this experience in the book Facing Up.

Q And then, did he have a holiday? Did he relax and sunbathe like us?

A No, he didn't. First he circumnavigated the United Kingdom on jet skis, then he crossed the North Atlantic Ocean on an open, inflatable boat in aid of charity.

Q What did he do next?

A Next he took a group of men to join the French Foreign Legion in the Sahara Desert. Maybe that was a holiday for Bear – it depends on what you call a holiday!

Geography

Climate zones

There are different climatic zones around the world and some countries have different climates within them. Australia is one of these.

Polar climates are found in the polar regions and in the highest mountains. Here, the temperature can be as low as -40°C and the ground is always frozen.

In most of Europe and North America you will find a warm, temperate climate. It isn't too cold in winter or too hot in summer.

Tropical climates usually have a high temperature all year round but it also rains a lot. Average temperatures are 32°C and annual rainfall can be as much as 2,000mm.

Cool temperate climates can be found south of the Arctic and across northern Europe and Canada. Here the winters are longer and colder than in warm climates.

Dry climates have very low rainfall and the daytime temperature can reach 50°C . A desert has this climate. Monsoon climates have two seasons – wet and dry – but it is always warm.

- 3 Why is it a good idea to buy second-hand products?
- 4 What part-time jobs can you get to earn more money?
- 5 Is it a good idea to buy something that you don't really need?

Antonyms are words that mean the opposite of another word. You can improve your vocabulary by learning them.

Smart tips for young people

- A Would you like to receive €10,000 on your 30th birthday? Well, you need to save either 78 cents a day from the age of 13, €4.47 a day from the age of 25 or €27 a day from the age of 29. Just do the maths. It's more intelligent to save money early. So, how can you start saving money?
- B Imagine there's a new games console. It's faster and better than yours, but it's very expensive. At home, you've got a lot of old games and a very old games console. Why don't you swap them for something new? Many games shops have a swapping system. They also sell second-hand games and consoles; they're often much cheaper than new products.
- C If you want to save for something big, use your initiative and do a part-time job at the weekend. You can earn a few euros a week if you walk your neighbours' dogs or wash their cars, and a few euros an hour if you look after children. Then you don't need to borrow – and you don't lose friends because you can't pay them back!
- D Before you spend money on something new, think about it. Do you really need the best mobile phone in the shop? Do you really need the biggest memory card for your camera or the best basketball? If the answer is no, don't buy it!

11 Match words in the text with the antonyms below.

Culture Charity shops

Many people in the UK don't throw away their unwanted things. They sell them on the internet or they donate them directly to charity. Popular second-hand items include clothes, books, CDs and computer games.

Charity organizations such as Oxfam, Cancer Research or the RSPCA (Royal Society for the Prevention of Cruelty to Animals) have often got their own second-hand shops. Volunteers work in these charity shops. They organize the donations from members of the public and then sell these things to get money for the charity.

People buy second-hand things for various reasons. Firstly, they are usually much cheaper. Secondly, you can sometimes find unusual books, CDs or clothes that you can't find in a normal shop. Finally, it is a way for people to give money to their favourite charity.

6  Read and listen to the information about charity shops. Then answer the questions.

- 1 What do many people in the UK do with their unwanted things?
- 2 What is a charity shop?
- 3 Why do people buy second-hand things?

7 Do people buy and sell second-hand items in Romania?

Maths

Metric and imperial

Try to do the following maths. Which is easier?

- a) 1 km – 200 m + 3 m – 25 cm = _____
- b) 1 mile – 10 yards + 2 feet + 1½ inches = _____

If you go to New York, you will see road signs with the distances in miles not kilometres, weights in pounds not kilos, and volumes in gallons not litres. This is known as the imperial system and it is used as a system of measurement in the USA. In the USA it is called the United States Customary System.

These days most countries, including the UK since 2000, use the metric system. It was first proposed by the French astronomer and mathematician Gabriel Mouton in 1670. It is an international decimalized system of measurement and a lot of people believe it is much easier to use than the imperial system. Do you agree?

	imperial	metric
distance	1 mile	1.6 km
weight	1 pound	0.45 kilos
volume	1 gallon	3.7 litres

UNESCO Heritage sites

What do these places have in common? Stonehenge, Burgos Cathedral, North Norfolk Coast Biosphere Reserve, England, and the Roman ruins of Merida. Any ideas? Yes, they are all UNESCO World Heritage sites.

A There are 890 UNESCO World Heritage sites. Many people think that World Heritage sites are all famous old structures like Stonehenge, but this is not true. Some are natural places, like North Norfolk Coast Biosphere Reserve, not cultural, man-made monuments.

Two of the most famous cultural sites are the Great Pyramid of Giza and the Taj Mahal in Agra, India.

B The Egyptian Pharaoh Khufu ordered his people to build the Great Pyramid as his tomb. It took nearly 100,000 workers 20 years to complete. The builders needed over 2 million granite blocks to make the pyramid, but first they had to transport the blocks over 500 miles. They used boats to bring the blocks down the River Nile from Aswan and the result was the biggest pyramid in the world.

C The Taj Mahal is not as old as the Great Pyramid. In the seventeenth century the Mughal emperor Shah Jahan had a favourite wife called Mumtaz Mahal. When she died he wanted to build an everlasting monument for her. He ordered 20,000 workers to build an enormous white marble tomb decorated with gold and precious stones. The builders needed more than 1,000 elephants to bring the marble to the site. It took over 20 years to build and it looks more like a palace than a tomb. Many people think the Taj Mahal is more beautiful than the Great Pyramid. Some people even call it the loveliest building in the world.

Why not look at the UNESCO website and find out if there are any World Heritage sites near you?

The palace was built in 1703, but it didn't become the home of the royal family until 1837. People know when the queen is there because they can see her flag on top of the palace. When she's away, the flag isn't there.

The palace today

Queen Elizabeth II does a lot of her work in the palace. 450 people work there. The palace has 775 rooms, including 52 royal and guest bedrooms and 188 bedrooms for people who work in the palace.

Visiting the palace

Thousands of people visit the palace every year. Many tourists watch the Changing of the Guard, a famous ceremony which happens every day outside the palace. In the summer, tourists can visit some of the rooms inside the palace. Also in the summer, the queen invites about 50,000 people to her garden parties.

Hi Robert,

I'm in New York with Mum and Dad! It's so cool! We arrived yesterday and we're having a great time. Today we did a lot of sightseeing. We went up the Empire State Building and had lunch in a diner (my burger was big enough for two people!). Then we went to the Statue of Liberty, which was OK but it wasn't exciting enough for me. I thought it was bigger! Then Dad wanted to go to the Metropolitan Museum of Art. It's the biggest museum in New York. ☹☹☹

We got a taxi to the museum but we were too late. It was closed. Hurray! 😊😊😊 But tomorrow we're going to go at 10am so we'll have enough time to look carefully at everything. Boring! I'm going to look at the modern art quickly and then sit in the coffee shop.

I'll write again soon.

Bye!

Geography

The creation of a waterfall

The upper course of a river is usually high above sea level, in hills or mountains. The river travels downwards and cuts through the landscape with vertical erosion. One of the geographical features which are formed by vertical erosion is a waterfall. This is typical in the upper course of a river and eventually creates a gorge.

The water travels over the hard rock and erodes the softer rock underneath.

A plunge pool forms at the base of the waterfall. The swirling water and rocks erode the soft rock behind it.

Eventually the front of the cap rock collapses.

The waterfall moves backwards and the process is repeated again.

A steep-sided gorge is formed.

Read and listen. Answer the question.

Can you name any famous waterfalls?

THE FACTS

Almost 1 billion people in the world haven't got clean water to drink.

2.5 million people don't have access to a toilet.

Every day, 24,000 children under the age of 5 die because of unsafe water.

Many children can't go to school because they need to walk for hours to get water for their family.

22nd March is World Water Day when there are events around the world focusing on the water crisis. So, what are you going to do on World Water Day?

Are you going to stand in a toilet queue*?

Jamie Cranks and his friends are from Manchester. 22nd March isn't going to be a normal school day for them because they're going to stand in an unusual queue. Their teacher is going to join them too! In fact, people in about 80 countries are going to work together to form the world's longest toilet queue.

Or are you going to donate your Facebook or Twitter status?

Amy, her friends and thousands of other people are going to donate their Facebook and Twitter status to Water.org from 21st to 26th March. When Hollywood actor Matt Damon and engineer Gary White created the organization, they had a clear objective: everyone should have access to clean water to drink. Water.org works with local partners to help individuals and communities to meet their own water and sanitation needs. On World Water Day, Water.org is inviting people to donate their Facebook and Twitter statuses to tell millions about the water crisis.

Culture The police

Police officers in the UK are often called Bobbies. They are called Bobbies because of Sir Robert Peel (Bob Peel), a politician who invented the idea of the police force in the 19th century. They wear a dark blue uniform with a white shirt and a black tie. They have a famous helmet, but only police officers who are on the beat wear this helmet. 'On the beat' means they work in the street, either on foot or on a bicycle. When they are in a police car, they wear a cap.

Probably the most distinctive police uniform in the English-speaking world belongs to the Royal Canadian Mounted Police, whose officers are known as the Mounties. They are the national police force of Canada and their uniform is called the Red Serge. This is a red jacket, wide trousers and a famous brown hat. The police officers often ride horses.

CLIL Literature

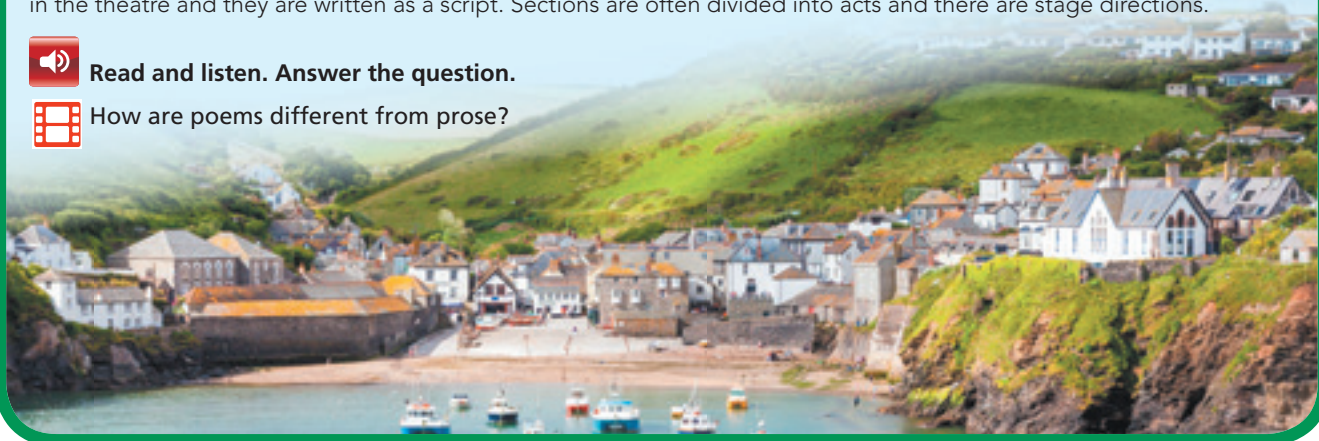

Types of fiction

Dylan Thomas was a Welsh poet and writer. He wrote plays and short stories as well as poetry. He was born in Swansea in 1914 and he died in New York in 1953. His work was in English, not in Welsh, and he sometimes wrote radio plays, including Under Milk Wood, which is one of his most famous works. He often read his poetry on the radio and in theatres himself, and his voice was as famous as his writing while he was alive.

Under Milk Wood is in prose, which is written language in its ordinary form and usually used for plays or novels. Dylan Thomas is mainly known as a poet. Poems sometimes use rhyme and rhythm and they are shorter than prose. Plays are performed in the theatre and they are written as a script. Sections are often divided into acts and there are stage directions.

 Read and listen. Answer the question.

 How are poems different from prose?

Know your future

Don't read your horoscope, but look at the demographics for your country if you want to know your future. Demographics can tell you, for example, that if you are born in Japan, you'll probably have one child and live until you are 83. They are statistics about real people in real places, and they can be fun. Here are some more ...

Leaving home

If you're a British girl, you'll probably leave home when you're about 23. The average British boy won't leave home until he's nearly 25. In Spain and Portugal, a girl will leave home at about 27, but a boy won't leave until he's nearly 30. In Finland, the average girl will leave home at 21 and a boy at 23.

Getting married

A person born in the UK, Spain or Japan will get married for the first time at about 29 years old. In Bolivia, Portugal or the USA, you'll be 23 or 24. If you want to wait, go to Finland, France or Germany – you'll get married at 30.

Having children

In the USA, you'll probably have two children. But the maths is more complicated in other countries. In the UK and China, a family will have 1.8 children, but in Spain they'll have 1.4 – the same as in Portugal. Do you want more? Go to Bolivia, where the average family has 3.4 children.

Age

How long will you live? Iceland is a good place to live as you'll probably live to around 82. This is similar to Sweden (81) and better than the UK (79), Turkey (72) or Russia (67).

Culture Music in schools

A lot of music bands started at school. Many teenagers form bands and practise in their parents' houses or garages. Famous bands that formed in school include The Beatles, U2, Muse, Green Day and The Red Hot Chili Peppers.

Many children learn to play instruments such as the violin or the piano in school and in private classes. Some schools have an orchestra. There are sometimes concerts in the school, and some orchestras compete against other schools in regional or national competitions. They even sometimes travel to other countries.

Some teenagers sing in school choirs after school or during lunchtime. Choirs sometimes sing classical songs or traditional folk music. Gospel choirs are also popular in both the USA and the UK. These choirs sing religious hymns.

6 Read and listen to the information about music in schools. Then answer the questions.

- 1 Where can teenage bands practise?
- 2 What famous bands formed at school?
- 3 What do school choirs sing?

7 Use the mind map below to speak about your favourite music.

6 Read and listen to the text and answer the questions.

- 2 How often should you practise your songs?
- 3 What can make you different from other bands?
- 4 Why is it important?

Do you want to be in a band? Have you got what it takes to be a star? Will you be successful? Read on and find out.

If you want to be a successful band, you'll need at least one vocalist and three friends to play the guitar, the drums and the keyboards.

It's important to practise every day. If you don't practise, you'll sound terrible and people won't like your music or buy your songs.

Your look is important too. If you want to be famous, you'll need an image to make you different. If people don't like your image, they won't buy your songs. If you have a good image, your fans will love you. They'll buy your songs, they'll go to your concerts and ... congratulations! You will be the next big thing!

ICT Dot-com companies

Silicon Valley is south of San Francisco. It's home to many large technology companies such as Apple and Hewlett-Packard and also many dot-com companies. These are companies like Google, Facebook and eBay which operate mainly over the internet.

But where did the dot-com company come from?

In 1985, the World Wide Web was first introduced to the world. A company called Symbolics became the first company to register its address, or URL, on the web. Today, there are 200 million websites in existence, and one domain is registered every three minutes in the UK alone. But it took a long time for the internet to become the phenomenon it is today. It was when Sir Tim Berners-Lee put up the first website in 1990 (info.cern.ch), that the internet took off.

During the 1990s, there was a dot-com boom. Many people became rich because of the World Wide Web. In 1998, PhD students Larry Page and Sergey Brin invented Google. These days, this search engine is the world's most recognizable brand and, in 2011, it was valued at $192 billion.

A history of games

Does your family ever sit together and play games? This fun activity is, in fact, over 5,000 years old. Perhaps the first known game was Senet, an ancient Egyptian game which appeared in about 3100BC! Archaeologists have found many Senet boards in Egyptian tombs, but they haven't found the rules anywhere.

A version of backgammon appeared in China about 3700 years later. Go came from China but it became popular in Japan in the 7th century. They are both games of strategy for two players. In backgammon, the players roll a dice to move their pieces. The winner is the first person to take all their pieces off the board. In Go, the board is empty at the beginning and the players don't roll a dice. The winner is the person who has got the most counters on the board at the end. Playing cards first arrived in Europe in the 1300s from China. Chess appeared about 100 years after that. The modern board game was finally born in 1935 when the company Parker Brothers introduced Monopoly to the USA.

Fifty years later, German-style board games began to appear, for example The Settlers of Catan in 1995. This game is very different from American games like Monopoly. In Settlers, players build villages and roads across a board, the game moves fast, and players interact with each other when someone rolls the dice. There isn't any direct competition between players and nobody is eliminated.

Culture Beaches in the UK

The UK has some very popular beaches. Some are peaceful and wild. These are good for walking and doing sports. Some beaches are popular with tourists. These are very busy in summer.

Newquay is in the southwest of England, on the Atlantic coast. It has nine sandy beaches and about 22,000 residents. In summer, the population is about 100,000. It is very popular with surfers and there are international surfing competitions every year.

Blackpool is the most important seaside town in the UK, with about 10 million visitors every year. It is in the northwest of England about 50km from Manchester and Liverpool. It was the first town in the world to have electric street lights and it's famous for its tower, which is very similar to the Eiffel Tower in Paris.

Hooray! We finished all our exams and now we're waiting for our results. Tonight Izzie's having a party in her garden. We're celebrating the end of the school year. If it rains, we'll have the party inside.

We'll probably ride bikes every day if the weather is good. My mum says we'll go to a water park and to Paris for a couple of days too.

And then I'll be free for the second half of August. I'll work at the market again with my aunt to earn some extra money. But I won't work every day. I will have some free time too. What are your plans for the summer?

Writing An e-mail

1 Read and listen. Answer the questions.

- 1 Where is Naomi at the moment?
- 2 Was it an easy year for her? Why not?
- 3 Where is she going on holiday?
- 4 What will she do there?

Hi,

I'm sitting outside and I'm writing this e-mail to you on the last day of term. We're all feeling really excited. The holidays are beginning! Hooray!

This wasn't an easy year for me. As you know, we moved here last July and I started my new school in September. But I was lucky – all my classmates were really friendly from the first day. They often invited me to their houses. Once, when we had a class project, they all came to my house to write a song together. I made some amazing new friends.

And the holidays? We're going to Malta for two weeks. It's an island in the Mediterranean. My dad was born there. I think we'll explore the island, visit the museums and monuments and have a good time.

Did you have a good year? What are your plans for the summer?

Write soon,
Naomi

Language Regional dialects

Most languages spoken in the Caribbean belong to one of four major European tongues: English, Spanish, French or Dutch. English is the most commonly spoken language due to the UK's colonial background in the region and today's high rate of tourism.

As well as these languages, there are many regional dialects. The most common is Patois, a combination of English, African words and French. Creole is also widely spoken in the Caribbean but there are different versions of it. The language spoken in Barbados is close to standard English while people in Jamaica have a more distinct local language. Both of these languages borrow a lot of words from other languages.

Read and listen. Answer the question.

What languages is Patois a combination of?

- 2 Where will the cyclists go after the London Eye?
- 3 Is Nick going to take part in the bike race?

2 Read and listen to the dialogue. Check your answers.

The bike race

Mia The bike race is starting in Hyde Park at 9am.

Alex So if we leave home at 8am, we won't be late. We can take a bus.

Nick Dis you say Hyde Park? How big is it?

Alex Hyde Park is one of the largest parks in London. It's got more than 4,000 trees, bike and horse paths and a lake you can swim in.

Nick Tell us more about the race.

Mia There'll be a lot of young people there. The race is for 14–18 year-olds. My brother did the race last year and it was amazing.

Nathan Does the race finish in Greenwich?

Alex Yes. Cyclists will ride from Hyde Park to Buckingham Palace and then to the Houses of Parliament.

Nick Buckingham Palace? Do you think the Queen will watch the race?

Nathan I don't think so, Nick. Then the cyclists will go to the River Thames and the London Eye.

Nick Oh, the London Eye! Does it go really fast?

Mia It moves really slowly. You get the most amazing views of London from the top.

Alex After the London Eye, the cyclists follow the River Thames. They'll ride past St Paul's Cathedral and the Tower of London.

Nathan They'll cycle past Tower Bridge too. That's the beautiful bridge that opens when tall ships sail on the river.

Alex The cyclists will continue to Greenwich. They'll finish at the Prime Meridian in Greenwich around 12.30pm. We can have our lunch there.

Nick But I can't ride a bike!

Mia We're not taking part in the race, Nick. We're watching it!

The background of the page is a vibrant night scene of a traditional Chinese festival. At the top, several large, glowing yellow lanterns with tassels hang from a red canopy. Below them, a large, ornate pagoda with multiple tiers and a dark roof is illuminated with warm lights. The pagoda is surrounded by other structures and more lanterns, all set against a deep blue twilight sky. The overall atmosphere is festive and celebratory.

CELEBRATIONS ALL OVER THE WORLD

THE CHINESE NEW YEAR

The Chinese New Year takes place between January 1st and February 19th. This important date on the Chinese calendar has been celebrated for many centuries. During the festivities ancestors are honoured and traditional ceremonies are held where people get together and welcome the new year with customs that will bring good luck, good fortune, wealth, prosperity and happiness.

To sweep away bad luck houses are cleaned from top to bottom.

The festivities for the new year take 15 days in most countries.

The new year is often celebrated with dragon dances, lion dances, gift exchanges and fireworks. It typically ends with lantern festivals on the 15th day of the first calendar month.

Each year a Chinese zodiac animal is the symbol for the year.

The 12 Chinese zodiac animals are: rat, ox, tiger, rabbit, dragon, snake, horse, goat, monkey, rooster, dog, and pig.

People eat 'auspicious food' during the new year period: fish dishes (fish is a symbol of good luck, wealth and healthy life), dumplings, mandarin oranges, dried fruit and even sweets are seen as lucky food. Candy boxes and little round shaped biscuits symbolizing gold or fortune are served everywhere. A popular food are long noodles that may bring good fortune as well as a long life.

And make sure your plate is never empty, as this would be seen as your luck has run out.

MAY DAY

May Day is a holiday that celebrates the return of spring. It usually takes place in May. Many people celebrate May Day with festivals or flowers. May Day is not an official holiday in the United States. In the United Kingdom it is a bank holiday that is celebrated on the first Monday in May. In some countries May Day is a holiday that honors workers, similar to Labor Day. Here are some May Day facts and traditions.

Decorating Houses

May Day begins early in the morning. People go out before sunrise in order to gather flowers and greenery to decorate their houses and villages with the belief that the vegetation spirits would bring good fortune.

Washing in the early morning dew

Girls have a special habit of washing their faces in the dew of the early morning. They believed this made them very beautiful for the following year.

Maypole Dance

The medieval tradition is the one which is probably best known to everybody. Maypole is a tall pole around which dancers perform a beautiful dance with ribbons. This is popular in Germanic countries plus United States and Canada. The pole is decorated with flowers and ribbons in an elegant manner while dancing. It's a great day of singing and dancing in the traditional Maypole style where children get small pretzels.

May Queen

The highlight of May Day was the crowning of the May Queen, the human replica of Goddess Flora. By tradition she took no part in the games or dancing, but sat like a queen in a flower-decked chair to watch her 'subjects'.

May Day Garlands

Young girls would make May Garlands. They cover two hoops (rings) with leaves and flowers and sometimes they put a doll inside to represent the goddess of spring. In some parts of Britain, May 1st is called Garland Day.

Fertility

May Day has been celebrated by many cultures over many centuries. Gods of the forest, goddesses of motherhood and a number of agricultural Gods are connected to this holiday. Spring is known as the time when the fertility is high because of the favorable temperature and a feeling of celebration.

Lei Day

Lei day, celebrated in Hawaii started in 1929 and still continues. Each island has a different type of celebration, but the aim is the same - to celebrate the onset of spring. People immerse themselves in the centuries-old tradition of presenting flower necklaces to say "Aloha" at the Lei Day celebration. Here, May Day is Lei Day where every person can enjoy hula dancing, and Hawaiian music.

Wherever you are, make sure you spend your May Day acknowledging the good things within you, dancing around the Maypole, washing your face with morning dew, and simply enjoying your holiday!

Thanksgiving

The history of Thanksgiving

Thanksgiving combines the traditions of different groups of people. Travellers and migrants brought different religious traditions from Europe to the United States and Canada. The pilgrims first celebrated Thanksgiving after their journey across the Atlantic Ocean on the famous Mayflower ship. They held days of prayer, fasting or feasting to give thanks for successfully making the long boat journey. Later, settlers celebrated their successful harvest in a new land by holding feasts with their Native American neighbours.

Thanksgiving today

In Canada, Thanksgiving is celebrated on the second Monday in October. In the United States, it is on the fourth Thursday in November. Although its origins are religious, today, Thanksgiving is a largely secular holiday. For most Americans and Canadians, it is a day for coming together with family and friends to share a large meal, spend time with loved ones and express gratitude for the year that has passed. In many households there is a tradition of everyone seated at the table sharing what they are most grateful for.

Thanksgiving food

Thanksgiving is also about food. Thanksgiving dinner traditionally includes roast turkey, mashed potatoes, cranberry sauce and, for dessert, apple, pumpkin or pecan pies. Every family has its own recipes, sometimes secret recipes handed down through generations. Turkey, a bird native to North America, is the unofficial mascot of Thanksgiving, with roast turkey on the menu and turkey decorations on the wall.

More than food: football, parades and traffic jams!

Beyond food and gratitude, American and Canadian families gather around to cheer on local or national teams.

Parades are another common part of the festivities. In the United States, the Macy's Thanksgiving Day Parade takes place in New York City on the morning of Thanksgiving. It's one of the world's largest parades and is broadcast nationwide. A similar Thanksgiving parade happens in Canada as part of the Kitchener–Waterloo Oktoberfest, a multi-day autumn festival.

Unfortunately, heavy traffic is also common at Thanksgiving. In both countries, the week of Thanksgiving is one of the most popular travel times of the year.

Notting Hill Carnival

The sights, the sounds, the smells, the samba! Each year on the last weekend in August, Notting Hill is in party mood. The famous Notting Hill carnival is one of the most spectacular annual events in London, which attracts around two million people – not to mention the largest street party in Europe!

Notting Hill Carnival may have its roots in the Caribbean, particularly in Trinidad, where the tradition of carnival was very strong. The event was first held in 1964 and from the very beginning it was a huge success. In Notting Hill it brought people together. With the addition of costumes and a steel band it invited everybody out and onto the streets in appreciation of the music. In recent years it has grown to reflect the multi-cultural nature of society today, the event attracting participants and spectators from all over the world. Notting Hill Carnival encourages an open festival, offering different groups of people the opportunity to celebrate their particular cultural traditions. These groups are from Afghanistan, Africa, Central America and the United Kingdom.

The carnival features a legendary parade with dancers, performers and musicians from the local community as well as great food and an incredible party atmosphere. For two days the carnival brings sound and excitement to the streets of London. It's fantastic, it's fun and it's free. It shows Notting Hill as a vibrant city area, whose people get together once a year to be part of the carnival.

The best day to go to the carnival is on Sunday, which is known as 'Family Day', when you can see the brilliant Children's Parade, with costumes and music pumping from the sound systems to inspire dancing in the streets: reggae, merengue and rumba.

Notting Hill Carnival is a spectacular event and a great contribution to the British cultural life.

Unusual festivals in Australia

1 Henley on Todd Regatta

Henley on Todd Regatta is a boat race with a unique difference – it is held on the dry sands of the Todd River! Get dressed up for a day of frivolity and fun and enjoy the hilarity as you watch teams race in bottomless boats through the deep course sand. The Regatta takes place every year on the third Saturday in August.

It began as a joke at the expense of the original British settlers and the formal atmosphere of the British river races which continue today. Every before September, the town holds a regatta which large numbers of locals and tourists attend.

Food and drinks are sold at stalls, «no fishing» signs are put up, and the celebration takes all day. «Boats» are made from metal frames and hung with banners and advertisements, and teams of «rowers» run their boats in races through the hot sand. Races are also held in washtubs, human-sized hamster wheels and at the final event, modified trucks as boats are driven by teams armed with flour bombs and water guns. Traditional teams include Pirates and Vikings, wearing costumes. 20,000 spectators come every year to watch competitors running their elaborately built “boats” down the dry riverbed during the Henley on Todd Regatta. It’s a day of fun, hilarity and plenty of laughs.

This is pretty much a film festival for all the people who love dogs. The two-day film festival is entirely devoted to movies featuring man’s best friend. Since 2012, the festival – and its sister event “The Easter Dog Parade” – have raised over $10,000. It’s an energetic live literary performance which features the personal, true dog stories of everyday people, writers and performers.

U.S. MovieMaker magazine included “Good Dog!” in its list of “Top 10” Coolest Film Festivals in the “World-Out of the Box” category.
